Do you know there are over 100 (103 to be exact) opportunities for employees and students to volunteer to serve on Participatory Governance Committees at COM?

At the end of this academic year, we want to express our appreciation for those who were able to contribute to the goal of student success at COM through the Participatory Governance System. These efforts really did make a positive difference! Why not think about volunteering for next semester? For more information, just click on the link above and check out the opportunities which might interest you.

Contact the Office of Planning, Research, and Institutional Effectiveness (PRIE) for additional information at 415-485-9570.