Credit figures are as of first census day. Non Credit and Community Education figures are in progress. All Students includes the unduplicated count of Credit, Non Credit and Community Education students. The All Students headcount does not equal the sum of Credit, Non Credit and Community Education students because some students take a combination of Credit, Non Credit and Community Education courses. Credit Students The Kentfield Credit headcount plus the Indian Valley Credit headcount does not equal the Total Credit headcount because some students attend both campuses.

New SLO and Program Review Website

Student Learning Outcomes and Program Reviews

This website is separated into three sections. Please refer to links on the left side navigation.

Instructional Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

The purpose of instructional student learning assessment is to document and improve the college’s programs. On the instructional side, when we assess our students learning, we are able to identify which of our teaching practices have been successful and which have not, thus enabling us to modify our teaching practices in order to increase success.

Please read FAQ Section for more information.

Student Services Student Learning Outcomes Assessment

On the student services side, when we assess the efficacy of our services on student learning, we are able to analyze what is working and what could be better and thereby determine strategies for improvement.

COM Assessment Plan 2012

College of Marin Assessment Plan for College-Wide General Education, Degree/Certificate, Course Level, and Non-Instructional Student Learning Outcomes 2012-

Program Review

Program Review is a systematic process involving the collection, analysis, and evaluation of quantitative and qualitative data about an academic program, student service program or an administrative unit. Program Review recognizes the goals of the institution as the focus of
